'Last year I made for sure one of the best decisions in my life: going for Erasmus to the Netherlands. Looking back on the last half of a year I'm overwhelmed by all of the good memories, great experiences and travel moments I could collect as well as the amazing people I've met during my stay.'
(Exchange student 2021-2022)

'The content of the minor was great, well structured and I liked the assignments very much. It's a small but professional university. Also the teachers are always open and willing to help in every situation.'

Why do we offer this program?

When we think about children we see them as independent and responsible citizens. Education is not limited to classrooms. Exploring the real world should be part of education. Outdoor education gives children the opportunity to explore the world, whether the school is situated in an urban or rural area. In our opinion outdoor education is not limited to biology, geography and physics. Outdoor learning can take place in different contexts such as the city, museums, a football stadium and religious buildings. As a professional in the field of education and pedagogics you will fulfill an important role in the development of children. During this program you will become conscious about your role as a world citizen. You will learn to help children take their responsibility for a sustainable world. During this minor you will work with students from all over Europe. You will learn about different habits and cultures and in the process work on your English language skills.
